A wooden antipasto board is shown on a light-colored wooden table. The board is filled with various meats, including salami and prosciutto, along with slices of white cheese, a small bowl of red tomato sauce, and fresh vegetables like green onions and microgreens. Several slices of crusty bread are arranged on the board. A person's hand, wearing a ring, is visible at the top, and another hand is at the bottom left, both appearing to be in the process of serving or preparing the board.
